FOUNDATION ANNUAL REPORT

2022-23

GOOD THINGS HAPPEN WHEN WE WORK TOGETHER

"Teamwork makes the dream work."

Have you ever wondered why there are so many platitudes for teamwork? Because working together IS success - it's true, and at Mt. Hood Community College, we continue to work together for a common goal: our students' success. With your collaboration, we remain focused on unlocking innovation, enhancing personal growth, and creating opportunities - all with intention.

Just look at what we have accomplished: in 57 years we have taught 1 million students who endeavored to accomplish their academic and career goals. With boundless determination, these students have utilized opportunities in education to make their daydreams a reality. We have created nurses, teachers, mechanics, philosophers, artists, mathematicians, musicians, and countless more. Every sector of our community has benefited from MHCC talent.

You have given time and resources to help our Saint scholars. THANK YOU. Your investment in each generation of students has shown them that they are worthy of a top-notch education, and should they dare to dream, they have a team of philanthropists who will create amazing possibilities for them.

In these pages, take a moment to appreciate your impact. Read their stories and feel their gratitude. Our scholarship recipients often tell us their scholarship changed their life - they feel seen, heard, appreciated, and most importantly, valued. They feel the impact, too because they work harder and promise to pay it forward.

Together, we really can move mountains!

Growing Together, Securing a Future For Students

I'm extremely proud to share that during my five years as a Foundation board member, I've seen exponential growth in the Mt. Hood Community College Foundation. It's rewarding to witness an abiding philanthropic spirit which always focuses on the student, and their needs. I'm honored to have served once again as your Foundation Board President working alongside dedicated community and industry leaders who value the role MHCC plays in East County.

Philanthropic growth, whether through volunteering or financial donation, helps more students. Because of our progress, currently, one in four MHCC Foundation scholarship applicants receive an award and we have over $900,000 in scholarship funds to continue to give out yearly. We have achieved this success with strategic planning and generous support from donors like Junki and Linda Yoshida who donated their family home, The Yoshida Garden View Estate located on historic riverfront property. This estate will secure support for student academic success for generations.

Our growth mindset at the Foundation is people driven and transformative. We continue to focus on planting seeds for continued growth through our planned giving efforts – presently, our Heritage Society has 55 members, seven new in just the last year. Through these intentional efforts we are helping students both today and tomorrow.

All this to say, together, we have planned well for our growth, and I know we all look forward to watching our collective efforts at the MHCC Foundation be realized. Thank you for your time, your strategies and most importantly your dedication to our MHCC students who can make their dreams come true.

"Thanks to your kindness and support, I no longer feel worried and am confident that I can achieve my educational goals. I will be able to devote more of my time to learning and studying as a result."

The Rite Stuff

Last June, Jessica graduated from Mt. Hood Community College after successfully completing the funeral services education program. A member of the federally recognized tribe White Earth Objibwe, Pillager band from Minnesota, Jessica is a traditional jingle-dress dancer and working on reclaiming her traditional language Aanishinaabemowin.

“Traditionally, death is a sacred journey of life, not to be feared or taboo—I want to take care of the deceased on their final journey and help grieving families honor their loved ones’ lives.”

Jessica was inspired to return to college and study funeral education after caring for her nookomis (grandmother).

“Being awarded the scholarship was an incredible help as I was able to focus on school without the stress of finances. Miigwech [thank you].” - Jessica

Grit and Grins

Sehoya was raised by a single mother who struggled with addiction and mental illness. She found strength in caring for her mother and herself, teaching her that perseverance is an attribute of success. By 16, she was on her own, living with families who could take her in.

"I was influenced to work hard and stay driven to be successful," Sehoia explained. "I learned to financially support myself, become independent, and deal with adversity. I learned it was important not to dwell on the things I have gone through, but to grow from these experiences."

With the help of a Mt. Hood Community College Foundation scholarship, Sehoia recently graduated last spring with an associate degree in dental hygiene.

Great job, Sehoia and good luck as a dental hygienist.

"I'm beyond appreciative to have been selected for the scholarship. It meant the world to me! The scholarship gave me the confidence that hard work does pay off. It took some of the financial burdens off my shoulders." - Sehoia

Celebrating the 2022-2023 Heroes for Education

The Heroes for Education reception was held in the Student Union on June 6, 2023 to honor new and ascending members of the MHCC Foundation's donor wall. The Hero for Education Award was also presented for outstanding service to the college, advocacy for the college and support of the college. The Hero for Education scholarship will be named in Jerry Lyon's honor for the 2023-2024 academic year for his impact on the MHCC Automotive program. Kim Lyons accepted the award on behalf of her late husband.

Dr. Diane Noriega Earns Recognition as Patron Saint

Mt. Hood Community College congratulates Diane Noriega as the 2022-2023 recipient of the Patron Saint Award. This award is the highest honor given by MHCC to those who have demonstrated exceptional support of the college and its students through outstanding volunteerism and/or financial generosity.

When most people retire, they plan on spending more time gardening or traveling. Noriega saw her retirement years as an opportunity to invest more effort in higher education. "When my calendar went blank, I panicked. I was ready to say yes and ended up serving on several boards," said Noriega.

Noriega is a member of the Association of Community College Trustees Board of Directors and the Mt. Hood Community College Board of Education, a former MHCC Foundation Board member, and has been active in Rotary International. She holds a doctorate in education from the University of California, Santa Barbara and retired from her lengthy career in higher education in 2008 where she held roles teaching in all segments and in leadership.

Noriega is most proud her recent work with the Mt. Hood Community College Board of Education on the strategic plan and on diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI). "We read, discussed, and educated ourselves and we are seeing the changes. We have even been nationally recognized for our work," Noriega said.

With her eyes on the future, Noriega is looking forward to continuing her work with the board of education fine tuning their strategies in what she calls a "never-ending process of work. It's incredibly gratifying."

"It's a high, high honor. Thank you for the award and the recognition, but thank you faculty, staff, students, foundation board, and community for giving me the opportunity to serve the college," Noriega said. "As long as I'm still standing, I'll be here. My work here has given me purpose and allows me to pursue my passion which is ensuring that all students have the opportunity to achieve their dreams and goals."

Alumni Saint and District Board Member Andrew Speer Finds Inspiration on District Board Outcomes

Andrew Speer is a two-time Mt. Hood Community College alumni, his first time at MHCC was in 1998 as a 16-year-old homeschooled student. With his sights on joining the Marines, as soon as Speer could drive, he attended MHCC to earn college credits for high school equivalency—all in support of his military plan.

“In many ways, the college hasn’t changed,” Speer explained. “I see a few of the same instructors, and overall the feeling is still similar. It was interesting being in college at 16. The range of people in the classes was an interesting cross-section, I was in a math class with a 28-year-old and other students in my group were 19.”

After four years in the military, Speer returned to MHCC in 2004 to study economics, math, and statistics. Like before, Speer had a plan, this time to earn a bachelor’s degree from Portland State University (PSU). MHCC afforded Speer the ability to earn his prerequisites before transferring. He earned his bachelor’s in economics from PSU and stayed to earn his master’s degree in economics in 2009.

Speer entered the workforce with a career in utility with Bonneville Power Administration, NW Natural, and at Portland General Electric applying rates and calculating pricing. He has also used his skills in local government affairs. As such, in 2019, Speer took an opportunity to give back to MHCC by joining the Mt. Hood Community College District Board of Education.

“The college has always been a big part of my life. I attended and so did my youngest sister. Plus, my mom received her nursing credentials in the ‘70s. The long connection brought me to ask how I could give back and wonder what the future could look like for MHCC,” Speer said. “I looked at the board to see whose terms were ending and noticed a demographic aspect where members weren’t as close in age to the students that were being served. I became interested then in wanting to help bring diversity of thought to the institution of the board.”

“Watching the board as a collective incite institutional change over time is inspiring. I appreciate the engagement with community and the ability to be in other spaces to talk about specific outcomes. We are starting to narrow into the strategic plan and the connectivity to student needs. Making directional changes to meet these needs for broader reach for residents is inspiring!” - Andrew

"I knew that I wanted to take full-time classes to finish my prerequisites this year, but I was overwhelmed by the prospect of having to work a full-time job while simultaneously taking a full-time course load of challenging math and science classes. This scholarship truly means so much to me, as it will allow me to focus on school full-time while continuing to teach dance and yoga part-time."
